

Patient Responsibilities

You have the right to refuse medical treatment for your child to the extent permitted by law. You also have the right to know how this refusal may impact your child's medical condition.

Patient Responsibilities

With patient rights come patient responsibilities. The following information is important for you and your family. You have the responsibility to follow the rules and regulations of Boys Town National Research Hospital.

Communication

You have the responsibility to provide complete and accurate information about present complaints, pain, past illnesses, hospitalizations, medications and other matters relating to your health or your dependent's health.

As a parent, guardian or responsible family member of a hospitalized child or dependent, you have the responsibility to be available to hospital staff for consultation and decision-making.

You have the responsibility to keep appointments and notify your provider, clinic or the hospital when unable to do so.

You have the responsibility to ask questions if you do not understand yours or your dependent's diagnosis, medical treatment or instructions for follow-up care.

You have the responsibility to tell the people involved with your care if you are not satisfied at any time during your stay or appointment.

Pain Management

You have the responsibility to participate with your health care providers in developing and following a plan of care for pain relief. This includes pain relief options, asking for help when pain begins, helping hospital staff measure your level of pain and notifying staff if pain is not relieved.

Treatment Plan of Care

You have the responsibility to follow the treatment or plan of care recommended by the practitioner primarily responsible for your care. This may include diet, medication, exercise and follow-up medical appointments. If you refuse treatment or do not follow the plan of care, you are responsible for the consequences that may occur as a result.

Financial Obligation

You have the responsibility for the cost of your care and treatment and for providing information for billing purposes.

Respect and Consideration

You have the responsibility to respect the rights, privacy and confidentiality of others.

We believe that these rights can be achieved through cooperation and open communication.

Patients who feel that their rights have not been respected, or who have questions or concerns, should talk to their nurse or physician.

Boys Town National Research Hospital complies with applicable Federal civil rights laws and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex
